

The safest way to surrogacy in the United States

Baby Bloom is founded on three main principles:

1. Medical expertise - guarantee of having at least one child.
2. Localized process.
3. Comprehensive support and guidance.

1. Medical expertise - guarantee of having at least one child

Of all the stages in a surrogacy arrangement, the medical part is the most expensive.

The financial stakes of surrogacy are high:

as an incredibly complex biological procedure dependent upon a multitude of factors, surrogacy may not always work out and an unsuccessful attempt will incur additional fees that far exceed the original calculations. At Baby Bloom, we work to significantly reduce these risks.

We've searched the globe for the clinics, surrogates and egg donors who meet and exceed our exacting set of criteria, who are open and honest about their success rates.

That is why we choose to base our services in the U.S, particularly at The Fertility Center of Las Vegas...

The Fertility Center of Las Vegas has been ranked among the top centers in the country based on its fertility success data, as determined by the Society of Assisted Reproductive Technologies (SART). Regulated by the FDA, a federal agency of the Department of Health and Human Services, the clinic conducts a strict filtering and screening process of surrogates, donors and intended parents. Extensive physical and psychological diagnostics, advanced genetic testing and highly experienced IVF doctors all drastically increase your chances of having a happy and healthy baby.

Our process is an optimum solution assisted by the world leading social and medical institutions, you will be guaranteed a child at a fixed cost, regardless of the number of attempts it takes to conceive that child.

2. Localized process

From travel and living expenses to the legal and insurance nuances specific to each state, working with surrogates, donors, agencies and clinics across the country greatly increases the costs and complications involved in a surrogacy arrangement.

At Baby Bloom, we offer the complete peace of mind that all parties involved are based in one state – Nevada.

From here, we oversee the entire surrogacy arrangement, with several important legal advantages:

- In October 2013, Nevada enacted a statute that acknowledges surrogacy as a way to create a family, not just for husbands and wives, but for single persons and unmarried couples, including same-sex individuals and domestic partners. Baby Bloom works alongside the legal councillor who instituted this law.
- The state of Nevada registers both fathers as parents on the birth certificate, which means that the non-biological father is acknowledged as a parent without having to undergo a long and costly adoption process.
- The intended parents are not obliged to be present at court during any stage of the surrogacy process.

3. Comprehensive support and guidance

We will be with you throughout the surrogacy process, from the moment you choose us as an agency to the time you're holding your new baby in your arms. Each potential parent is teamed up with a personal guide, whose role is to provide practical advice and moral support every step of the way.

We pride ourselves on offering the services:
